The role of the Support Officer

The Support Officer will work with you to identify your support needs. The support given will be for a short period of time to help regain skills and confidence to maintain your tenancy and live independently.

The length of time you receive support from your Support Officer will depend upon your particular needs.

- Once we receive a referral, a Support Officer will arrange an initial visit with you within 10 working days.
- The role of the Support Officer will be explained to you at the initial visit.
- The Support Officer will explain and undertake with you an assessment of your support needs.
- If your application is accepted you will then receive a letter, which will tell you the name of your Support Officer and the date of your first support visit.
- If your application is refused you have the right to request a review.
- Your application for Floating Support from initial referral to the outcome of the assessment will take no longer than 20 working days.
- On your first support visit your Support Officer will develop an Individual Support Plan, with you, which will recognise your needs and priorities.
- Agree with you the hours of support and number of visits per week.
- Your Individual Support Plan will be reviewed within 20 working days and thereafter every three months.
